MATERIAL FOR COLLEGE TEAMS.

Interscholastic Athletic Cracks Who Will Enter the Big Colleges.

Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Columbia,

Cornell and other college athletic teams will be benefited next year by interscholastic cracks who have been graduated this year. Never before in interscholastic sport in this country has one year been so productive of future material for the big universities, and it is expected that the champion schoolboys who are going to the colleges will make names in college athletics next spring. Yale has secured the cream of the talent. Mike Murphy is not a bit backward in saying that Yale ought to be on top in athletics next spring.

One of the strongest additions to Murphy's combination is L. T. Sheffield, the interscholastic wonder. It can be said safely that in the twenty-four years of interscholastic sport in this city never has a youngster made the showing Sheffield dic, throwers, and this year is no exception. The Tigers, in securing J. Martin, the interscholastic of ampion hammer thrower, have a find. With no apparent effort, he threw the 16 pound hammer 117 feet, and his followers predict that these figures will be eclipsed at college.

Columbia gets two good athletes in S. Lestrade, the middle distance runner, and L. Sisson, the high jumper. Both youngsters have been champions while at school. Sisson is another Spraker, and many have said that he will do over 6 feet before his college career is over. Lestrade has cov-said that he will do over be feet before his college career is over. Lestrade has covered the 440 in 52 seconds, and Trainer Hjertberg expects him to do it in 50 flat.

W. Francisco, the hurdler, goes to Cornell. He is an all around at blete, but is best over the hurdles. C. Daniels, the distance runner, will fill a gap in Harvard's athletic team. He is a clayer at blete and the contractions of the contraction.

team. He is a clever athlete and very willing. While competing in school games he always ran second to Ellingwood, the interscholastic champion, who is still at school, and not a few times made him work hard to hold the lead.

In the first of the series of competitions at the board of governors of the Crescent Athletic Club, F. T. Bedford, Jr., yesterday made a clean record of 25 breaks with his bandicap allowance and won a leg on the trophy. The grounds at Bay Ridge were thronged with CARBUNCLE WINS MAXIMUM STAKES AT BENNINGS.

The Major and Duke of Kendal Capture the Handleaps-Steeplechase for Billy Ray-Four Favorites Finish in Front -Judge McDowell Makes a Protest.

WASHINGTON, Dec 5.—The Eastern racing ason under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club came to an end at Bennings to-day, where a splendid card and fine weather drew one of the largest crowds of the meeting. Four favorites won purses and the layers received a final scorching that made them glad to pack up their traps. The Maximum Stakes, for three-year-olds and upward, distance three miles, was the feature event, three horses going to the post. R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Carbuncle was the choice at 7 to 10, with L. V. Bell's River Pirate at 9 to 5, and Circus at 8 to 1. Burns took Carbuncle in circus at 8 to 1. Burns took carbuncie in behind River Pirate and Circus to the last quarter pole and then let the Stuyvesant gelding down, with the result that he ran over the others easily and galloped home with eight lengths to spare in 5:38 3-5. River Pirate stopped suddenly and Circus beat him

Two rattling handicaps added to the general interest. The first, at six and a half furlongs, drew a field of twelve with J. E. Seagram's Cloten the favorite, at 13 to 5 Elsie L. was second in favor at fives, while 6 to I was the price against E. R. Thomas's Young Henry and Buttons. Ice Water cut out the running, attended by The Major, 20 to 1, and Buttons, to the head of the stretch, where Hoar took The Major to the front for an easy victory by two lengths, Fustian, 15 to 1, coming from behind and beating Buttons three parts of a length for the place. The latter was a head in front of Cloten, who

The other handicap was at a mile and forty yards, in which E. R. Thomas's Duke

The other handicap was at a mile and forty yards, in which E. R. Thomas's Duke of Kendal and Trepan were coupled favorites at 3 to 2. Wire In and Sam Craig also received plentiful backing. Wire In was the leader at three-quarters of a mile, where Duke of Kendal and Arrahgowou, 15 to 1, passed him. It was a hot drive to the wire, Duke of Kendal drawing away in the last few jumps and winning by a length, Arrahgowon being half a length before Wire Ia.

The steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, was marred by the falling of Trapezist, who was weighted down with coin at 11 to 5. He was in front, going easily, when the accident happened, and his rider, Jockey Robinson, was seriously injured. After the tumble, Gypsic, 12 to 1, and Billy Ray, the favorite, raced together to the last obstacle, where the latter drew away and won easily by five lengths. Gypsic was fifteen lengths in front of Monellton Chief, 4 to 1.

H. T. Griffin's Plaudit colt, Bill Curtis, even money favorite, won the second race, for maiden two-year-olds at six furlongs. He got away poorly, but, after a careful ride from Burns he was in a position to challenge the three leaders—The Bowery, Bronx and Magio Flute. Then it was an easy matter to go to the front, as the trio tired, and Bill Curtis took the race by a length and a half, with Bronx a length in front of Magie Flute.

Wager, 15 to 1, captured the fifth race, for platers at seven furlongs, in a hard drive, He beat Toscan, the favorite, by a head, with Mary Worth, 15 to 1, two lengths away. Toscan looked the winner at the last sixteenth pole, but weakened when Wager challenged.

The meeting has been a success financially, although the racing has not been up to the usual standard of class and form reversals have made things unpleasant at times for both layers and players. M. L. Hayman heads the list of winning owners with $8,230, the victory of his colt Orthodox in the Grand Consolation stakes being the chief item. The Columbia Stable and R. T. Wilson, Jr., stand second and Shet pshead Bay f to Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay for a much needed rest.

It is stated that Presiding Judge Clarence McDbwell, who goes from here to the Crescent City to act as steward with Frank J. Bryan, will file a protest with the stewards of the Jockey Club against the action of the stewards here in setting aside his ruling the other day by placing Magic Flute second instead of Bill Curtis. It is also said that if his protest is not sustained, Judge McDowell will send in his resignation. Under the rules of racing it would appear that the local stewards had exceeded their authority and that Judge McDowell would be backed up by the Jockey Club.

NEW YORK A. C. LADIES' DAY. Club Athletes Show Proficiency in Nearly Every Branch of Sport.

The New York A. C.'s fifty-second "ladies' day," at the clubhouse, Central Park South, yesterday, attracted a large crowd of fair women and their escorts. From 11 o'clock in the forenoon until nearly 7 o'clock in the evening there was a constant stream of visitors in and out of the spacious building. For those who remained constantly a capital programme of entertainment was arranged, and it included all the physical departments patronized by the club—fencing, boxing, wrestling, jumping, club swinging and class exercise and half a dozen aquatic events.

The athletic exhibits happened in the gymnasium, and were the first of their kind in the new house. Prof. Mike Donovan, with A. Hickey, his assistant, and a couple of their pupils showed the fair spectators a taste of the manly art. Hugh Leonard, the wrestling instructor, and Dr. Hennen had a spirited bout on the mat, and so did Instructor Herrick and Wallis S. Turner. The fencers included Profs. Murray, Vanthier, Gouspy and Kock, with A. G. Anderson and W. T. Heintz. Mort Austin's morning class of club swingers performed neatly. Ray C. Ewry, holder of the standing high jump record, performed some fancy jumping stunts. A musicale followed the athletic exhibition.

The aquatic events created a lot of amusement, especially the umbreila race and hurdle race. The 100-yard handicap was an invitation affair and was won in clever fashion by C. M. Daniels off the 10 seconds mark. For those who remained constantly a capita Crew Practice Begins at Columbia. Regular crew practice for the 'varsity and eshman crew candidates at Columbia began resterday when the men started work on the rowing machines. The machines have in University Hall, where there is plenty of room and light, instead of the narrow stuffy quarters in the cellar of one of the university buildings which was used last year. Jasper T. Goodwin, the new graduate head coach, announces for the first week the work will be light, consisting of not more than ten minutes practice on the rowing machines. Mr. Goodwin believes that by beginning with easy practice and gradually increasing the work there will be no danger of overtraining Routine practice with regular hours will not begin until all the candidates who have promised to report have done so. The men now at practice are: 'Varsity, J. Miller, A. Parker, G. Merrick, H. Bangs, J. Tonnelle, J. Doyle, L. Easton, C. Pitske, C. Von Pustau, A. Fraser, W. Allen, A. Mackenzie, R. Pierrepont, L. The Yale baseball schedule next spring will exclude the Annapolis game, because it takes too much time to go there. In the Easter vacation the team will spend a week in Norfolk, Va., where it will play the University of North Carolina. On the way home Yale will meet Columbia and have two games with American League nines.

Each team will be composed Columbia Arranging Gymnastic Schedule. Harold S. Osborne, the manager of this year's varsity, gymnastic team at Columbia Univer sity, is completing final arrangements for the season's schedule. The scheme of contests will include a meet with Yale, probably in the Columbia gymnasium; another with New York University, and an exhibition and meet with Pennsylvania, one at Columbia the other at Philadelphia. Arrangements are also under way for a duel meet with Harvard, the first of its kind in Columbia's gymnastic history. A meet with Amherst is also being considered. An innovation will be tried this year in the way of holding weekly gymnastic contests for Columbia men only. Eugene Ashley is captain of the team. CATCHERS

Far Rockaway's Easy Basketball Victory The basketball teams of the Manual Training High School of Brooklyn and the Far Rockaway High School met at Far Rockaway yesterday. It was an avalanche for the visitors, who were outplayed at every point. In the first period, Manual tallied two field goals, netting 4 points, while the home team scored 22 points. The second period found the Manualites outplayed at every stage, and the final score was: Far Rockaway, 67; Manual, 12. The Hockey Club of New York met Yale's LAKEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 5.-Under snow rules a team match was played between members of the Country Club of Lakewood and the Nassau Country Club on the Lakepoints instead of holes. The Lakewood players won the singles, which were played in the morning, and also won the four ball match in the afternoon. About two inches of snow covered the links, making the use of the red ball a necessity. There were eight players in each team, and the trophy contested for was a handsome cup presented by the Country Club of Lakewood.

Jack McClelland and Bob Neary Fight Fast Draw. Jack McClelland of Pittsburg and Bob

snips in one afternoon at the spring meet of the interscholastic association. In this meet he secured 25 points, and helped Berkeley School win the championship.

Besides being a pole vaulter, broad and high jumper of no mean ability, Sheffield is a sprinter. At the interscholastic championships he covered the distance in the 100 in 10 2-5 seconds, and made a most remarkable record for a schoolboy by winning the 220 yard run in 22 2-5 seconds. While at college Sheffield will devote his spare time to the sprints.

Another clever athlete for Yale is H. Le C. Roome, a pole vaulter from Nathan Hale School. In the many interscholastic games held both in and out of doors, his work has been watched with the keenest interest. In competition he has often cleared the bar at 10 feet 6 inches, and, with proper handling, he is looked upon to raise his figures to 11 feet and over. His style and take-off are perfect.

Princeton seems to have good fortune in securing champion schoolboy weight throwers, and this year is no acception. Jack McClelland of Pittsburg and Bob Neary of Milwaukee fought a rattling six round bout before the Milwaukee A. C., on Friday night. The result was a draw. In the second round Neary sent Mcclelland to his knees. But McClelland, who was in grand shape, pulled himself together and managed to stay the round out. In the next three rounds he evened things up, and in the sixth McClelland had Neary all but out.

Then, again, the large number of show ring winners sold at different times from the stables of this company have given them a standing that is permanent. Aside from a complete line of carriages that are always offered at the lowest market prices, a number of second hand vehicles are offered at prices that in many cases do not represent the cost of manufacture. The actual wear has not detracted a dollar from the original value, but every dealer makes it a point to keep his warerooms cleared of second hand vehicles, and if prices will move If the reader is satisfied that real winter weather has come to stay, the stock of sleighs at Gray's will be of interest. HORSE AND CARRIAGE TRADE.

Everything is running as usual with the Standard Coach Horse Company at the city stables, 43 West Sixty-third street, and at the training farm near Teaneck, N. J. The trade of the company is not of the spasmodic.

The Peters Harness and Saddlery Company, at 88 West Broadway, carries one of the most complete lines of harness, saddles, blankets, robes and stable supplies shown in Manhattan. Not only is the supply ample, but the prices are much lower than many ask whose expense list is far more than is required for the modest style of business of the Peters company. Stable blankets are sold as low as $1, and for a trifle more one can buy a really good article. In street blankets the price begins at $1.25, and at $2 a really desirable blanket is sold. In lap coverings prices are equally advantageous. The line of harness, saddles, halters, whips and every essential to a well ordered driving or stable outfit is just as complete and is sold at equally attractive figures.

R. H. Macy & Co. anticipated the early snow fall and made preparations a ccordingly. Now the line of furs is most complete—fur coats, fur caps, fur capes, fur robes and everything to make the sleigh or carriage comfortable during these wintry days. For those who prefer cloth or plush robes the variety shown is too great to be enumerated, and so is the line of horse clothing, either for the street or the stable. The variety embraces everything desirable, and the range of prices is calculated to suit every taste and every purse. The things that are in demand every day and every season, such as harness and regular stable supplies, are always quoted at prices that are attractive. Macy & Co. never sacrifice quality to price, although they do advertise to sell goods cheaper than any other store where only reliable goods are offered.

carriage you have a good carriage."

The Mark Cross Company keep adding to the scope and variety of the stock carried and now cater largely to the personal wants of patrons as well as to the needs of the horse and the stable. The fact must not be lost sight of, however, that in extending the sphere of usefulness to the public rething the sphere of usefulness to the public rething has been relaxed in the regular line of service. The harness department is just as complete and the service just as efficient as before. The floor space devoted to this department is the largest used by any store for the same line in Greater New York. So in the saddle department the line is the most complete that can be shown. The reader, whether man or woman, who enjoys a canter through the Park should by all means have a riding outfit with the Cross Company's stamp. It means everything correct, and no one who can afford the luxury of riding can afford to be otherwise than up-to-date.

Flandrau & Co. believe in being accessible. Other things being equal, the general public will seek the most convenient point of sale. The location at 406 to 412 Broome street is one of the most central in the business part of the city. The Broadway cars are but two blocks west and the Fourth avenue cars pass the corner of the block. All the elevated lines have a station at Grand street, where the crosstown line makes Flandrau & Co. easy to reach. Just at present the stock shown is one of the most complete this leading carriage house has ever had in the salesrooms. Every desirable style of carriage for town or country is here in all the new colorings and the distinctive style in details that is suggestive of the bullders.
